FROM THE EDITOR. . .

Scholar: One who has profound knowledge of a particular subject

I am climbing back again on that proverbial soapbox. While not wanting to preclude a genealogist from publishing a family history by insisting on references for every statement, your editor wants to remind everyone that it is very important not to place this burden on someone else. You are a genealogical scholar, and it should be your research. As such, it is your responsibility to see that your work is as accurate as possible and should not consist of copying incomplete lineages willy-nilly.

Passing the buck leads to the following comment, and I don't believe the next generation would thank us for this type legacy.

*"When research on a line is being done, it is easy enough to err. One of the biggest problems facing future genealogists will be to sort out the incorrect information on the Internet or submitted to the Ancestral File and published on CD-ROMS. There is so much JUNK and INCORRECT information in these sources I do not use ANYTHING from them, and advise others to do likewise!"

Early Lincoln County People and History, as written in 1904

In May 1904, an Illustrated Magazine Edition Supplement of the Lincoln County News was published in Fayetteville, Tennessee. The newspaper-size booklet contained sixty pages and was filled with advertising, biographies, and photographs of a number of business men of the time period. Included on pages 32-35 was an unsigned article that contained many early names of the area, along with a map that is reproduced here.

Marte Kellogg, a MTGS member from San Antonio, Texas, loaned the newspaper to your editor, and it is from this source that the following abstract is presented. Subject divisions, not in the original article, have been added. — Ed.

In 1809 the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee passed an act to establish Lincoln County within the following bounds, to-wit:

Beginning on the northeast corner of Giles County and extending south with the eastern boundary lines of Giles County to the southern boundary line of the State; then with that line east to a point due south of the mouth of Cave Spring Creek; thence north to the southern boundary line of Bedford County; and thence with the said line westwardly to the beginning. The Act named John Whitaker, Sr., Wright Williams, Ely Garrett, Littleton Duty, and Jesse Woodruff, commissioners, with power to purchase 100 acres of land "on or near the north bank of Elk River, as near the center of the county, east and west, as a proper situation will admit of, and at all events not more than two miles from said center," and after procuring the aforesaid 100 acres of land shall cause a town to be laid off thereon, reserving near the center thereof a public square of two acres on which the courthouse and stocks shall be built, likewise reserving a lot in any other portion of said town for the purpose of erecting a jail; and said town when so laid off shall be named Fayetteville.

It was also enacted that "the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for the county of Lincoln shall be held on the fourth Monday in the months of February, May, August and November, annually at the house of Brice M. Garner, until a place is provided for holding this said court in the town of Fayetteville, and that this act shall be in force from the first day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ten."

First Court

The first court met and was organized at the house of Brice M. Garner on Monday, February 26, 1810. The following named persons were sworn in Justices of the Peace by Oliver Williams, Esq., of Williamson County, viz: Thomas L. Trotter, Wright Williams, William Smith, John Whitaker, William Dickson, William Roundtree, Eli Garrett, Philip Koonce, Henry Kelso, Robert Higgins, Samuel Barnes. Littleton Duty, James Fuller, James Stollard, Jesse Woodruff, and Nathan G. Pinson. Phillip Koonce was made chairman and Thomas H. Benton was made clerk pro tem. Constables were sworn in and county officers were elected.

County Seat

Hardy Holman, Wright Williams. Littleton Duty, Eli Garrett, and John Whitaker were appointed to locate the county seat. They bought 100 acres of land from Ezekiel Norris and platted the town of Fayetteville, and made report to the court at its May session, 1811, which together with the plat of the town is spread upon the minutes of the court. They report that after reserving a lot for the jail, the lot upon which the town spring is situated, and a lot for a meeting house—they sold all of the lots on a credit of twelve months, the amount aggregating $6,172.00 and that they had contracted with Micajah Muekleroy (McElroy) to build a court house on the public square for the sum of $3,935.00 to be completed on the first day of November, 1813 and to be paid for in three equal annual payments. A temporary courthouse was built in 1811 by James Fuller for which he was paid $35.00. It was built of rough logs and was 18 by 20 feet in the clear.

The first Jail was built in 1810 by Ephraim Parham, for which he was paid $19.87½. It was ten feet square and the walls, floor, and loft were built of logs twelve inches in diameter.

County Officials, Lawyers, and Jury Members

The venire facias returned by Cornelius Slater to the February session of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, showed the jurors summoned: David Smith, Ephraim Drake, John Porter, Robert Elliot, Amos Small, Abner Wells, Jasper Smith, Levi Mizel, John Duke, William Smith, William Y. Higgins, John McMullen, Joshua Dodson, Ezekiel Norris, and John Morgan.

At the May session, 1811, the following appeared upon the minutes: "This court allows one dollar and fifty cents for every wolf scalp killed in this county." At the February session of the court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions a venire facias was ordered to summon the following named jurors: For the June term of the circuit court, viz: Andrew McCartney, John Rhea, William Street, John Duke, Robert Stephens, James Davis, Thomas Spencer, Joseph Dean, Charles Stewart, John Whitaker, Jr., John Morgan, William Smith, Henry Warren, William Whitaker, William Dickson, Hardy Holman, John Greer, Vance Greer, Zedekiah Tate, wright Williams, Nathan G. Pinson, George Pearce, John Burks, Sr., William Spradling, Thomas Murphy, John Crinn, Joseph Campbell, David Cowan, John Click, David Keith, William Anderson, James Wilson, John Paul, Richard Middleton, John Middleton, John Calhoon, Richard Wyatt, Alexander Manston and Willis McLaurine. The venire facies to be summoned to the May session of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions as follows: William Fish, Elisha Thomason, George Brown, Edward Teal, Ruben Stuart, Robert Little, John Moore, Major Ruben Hunter, William Y. Higgins, Aaron Wills, William Sutton. John Enochs, John Gibson, William Smith and John H. Moore.

When the courts of this county were first organized and for a number of years afterwards the State had no penitentiary or other place for the confinement of felons, neither did the counties have workhouses, therefore, the law provided for administering to convicted criminals corporal punishment, such as confinement in stocks, whipping, branding, cropping ears, etc. It was the custom to administer the punishment the same day the defendant was convicted. As an illustration: The Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions met Friday morning at 9 o'clock, May 6, 1814, and after transacting some other business took up the case of the Senate of Tennessee vs John Young, the defendant being charged in an indictment or having stolen a raw hide—was arraigned, plead not guilty; a jury was elected, sworn, impaneled: the evidence heard, the cases argued, and verdict rendered that the defendant was guilty as charged. The judgment of the court was rendered in the following language: "Therefore, it is considered by the court that the said John Young receive on his bare back five lashes at the public whipping-post in Fayetteville at 2:00 o'clock of this day and pay the cost of this prosecution and that a fierie facias issue for the same."

The Circuit Court with law and equity jurisdiction was established in this State in 1810. In 1835 the Chancery Court was established with exclusive equitable jurisdiction. The Circuit judges who presided in this county were Thomas Stewart, Judge Kennedy, Edmund Dillahunt, A. J. Marchbanks, N. A. Patterson, W. P. Hickerson, J. J. Williams, M. D. Smallman and Joseph C. Higgins, present incumbent. James Bright was the first Circuit Court Clerk, elected in 1810 and served as such till 1836, when he was succeeded by Alfred Smith, who held till 1848, then James R. Chilcoat held till 1856, R. S. Woodard held till 1868. M. W. Woodard held till 1870. Rane McKinney till his death in 1873. A. B. Woodard till 1874. Theodore Harris till 1878. W.C. Morgan till 1894. B. T. Roach till 1902, and Robert Fulton present incumbent [1904, Ed.].

The chancellors who have presided in this county are: B. M. Bramlett, Terry H. Cahal, B. L. Ridley, John P. Steele, A. S. Marks, J. W. Burton, E. D. Hancock and present incumbent, W. S. Bearden.

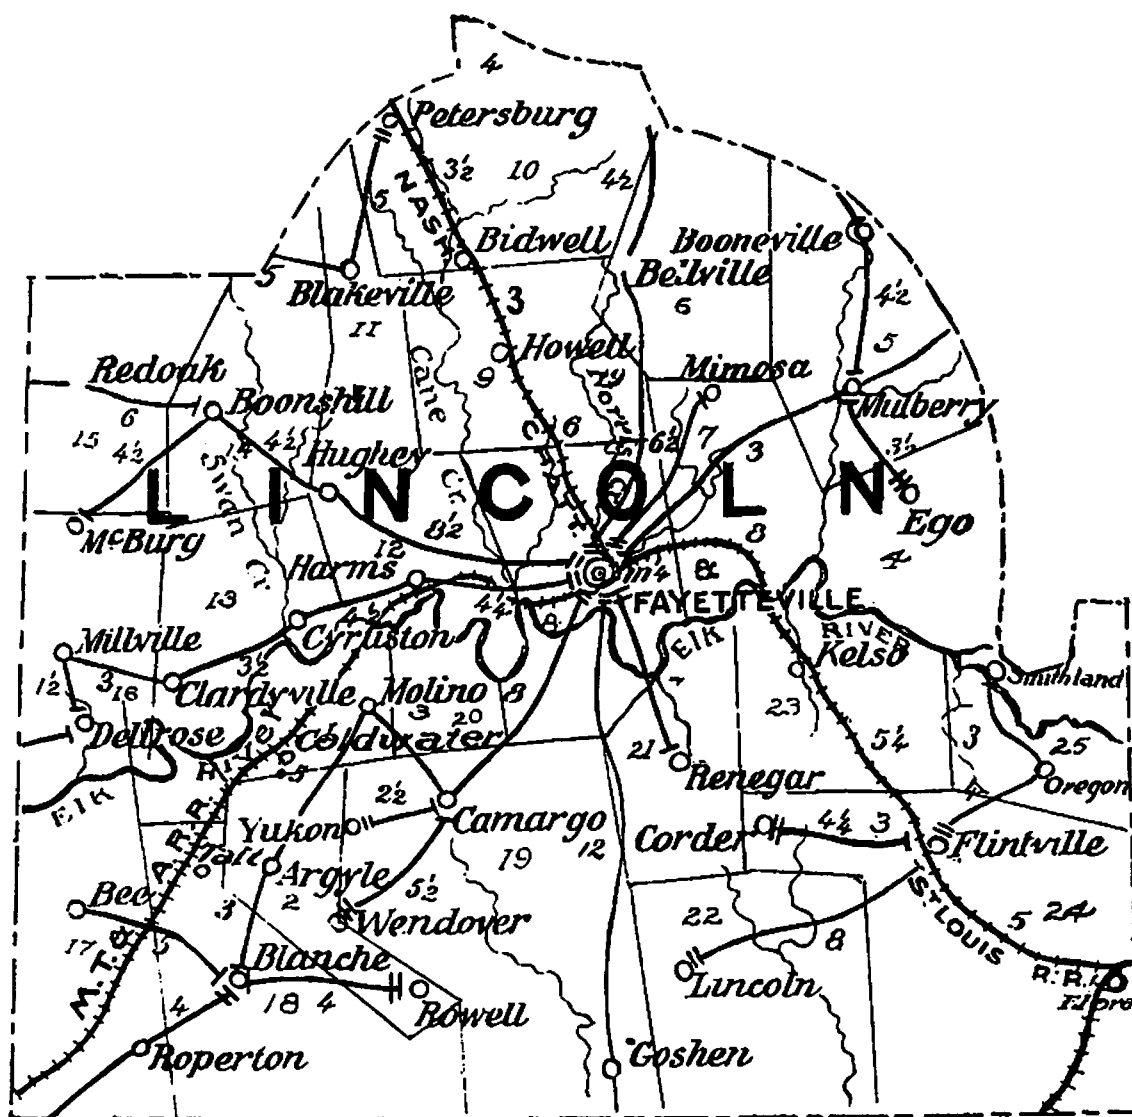

The clerks and masters appointed by the chancellors served successively as follows: Davis Eastland, James Bright, John S. Fulton, Robert Farquharson, Davis W. Clark, A. S. Fulton, W. B. Martin and (present incumbent) J. E. Poindexter,

The County Court of this county was presided over by justices of the peace until 1856 when James R. Chilcoat was elected Judge when he presided until he was killed in 1864, during the war. After the war the following persons presided as Judge successively: T. J. McGarvey, H. C. Cowan, M. W. Woodward, N. P. Carter, S. W. Carmack, W. A. Gill, G. W. Higgins. J. D. Acuff, J. D. Sugg and present incumbent, M. W. Woodard.

The County Court Clerks have served successively in the following order: Thos. H. Benton, pro tem. Brice M. Garner. Robert S. Inge, F. K. Kincannon, Chas. Boyles, Geo. W. Jones, Harmon Husbands, Henry Kelso, George Cunningham, E. L. Hodge, Norris Leatherwood, Daniel J. Whittington, John T. Gordon, E. P. Reynolds, John Y. Gill, P. D. Boyce, E. S. Wilson, J. E. Poindexter, and the present incumbent, H. L. Moore.

Since the office of Attorney General has been created for the judicial circuits, the following attorneys have held that office, either by appointment or election, in the judicial circuits to which Lincoln was attached, viz: Erwin J. Frierson, A. F. Goff, James H. Thomas, Joseph Carter, George J. Stubblefield, _____ Mohler, W. J. Clift, J. H. Holman, J. D. Tillman. A. B. Woodard, W. V. Whitson, George W. Sutton and the present incumbent, W. W. Fairbanks.

Since the organization of the county the following named persons have been Sheriff, either by election or appointment: Cornelius Slater, John Greer, Francis Porterfield, William Husbands, Andrew Kincannon, Alf. Smith, Wm. Blake, Constant Smith, Wm. B.

Lincoln County has furnished three repre-sentatives in the United States Congress, William M. Inge, served one term, 1883-35. George W. Jones, served eight terms, 1843 to 1859. John M. Bright served five terms, 1871 to 1881, all making twenty-eight years. George W. Jones also served one term 1861-1863 in the Confederate Congress.

Earliest History

Previous to the occupation of Lincoln County by the white settlers, It is difficult to ascertain from history, or public records, what tribe of Indians claimed or inhabited it. The Cherokees held the country to the north and east of this territory and a part of the Chickasaws had their villages along the north bank of the Tennessee at the head of the Mussel Shoals, the villages being known as the Chickasaw Old Fields....

For the want of records previous to the year 1810. it is difficult to ascertain when the first settlements were made within the limits of this county. Land locations were made and grants issued while this State was a part of North Carolina. On the minutes of the August term, 1811, of the Court of Quarter Sessions, are found the depositions of Robert Edmiston, Amos Balch, Ezekiel Norris and Richard Martin taken by Commissioners in April of that year touching the location of certain lands. Amongst other things they testify that on the last day of February, or the first day of March, 1784, they, with a number of other persons, were encamped on the north side of Elk River near a cedar bluff, and that they left their camp and went about two miles up Little River, or Cane Creek. and down on the east side of the river to a spring on the north bank of Elk River, etc., and made locations of several tracts of land, etc. At that time these parties were exploring and making locations and taking grants for lands, but there were no settlements made.

James Bright (the father of Hon. John M. Bright) and Ezekiel Norris, have generally been reputed to be the pioneer settlers in this territory. There may have been a few who preceded them but their names can not be ascertained.

Mr. Bright and Mr. Norris settled here in 1806, and following them there was an immense immigration. Within four years there were more than six thousand settlers: and in 1820 there were nearly 15,000.

The early settlers in this county were nearly all native born Americans. the majority being of Anglo-Saxon blood, but many of Irish, Scotch-Irish and German extraction. A few were veteran soldier's of the Revolution and many were the sons of Revolutionary heroes. They came here principally from North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Kentucky and Georgia....

County Civil Districts and Militia History

Upon the organization of the State it was divided into militia divisions and districts, and the act establishing Lincoln County provided "that the militia of the county should compose the thirty-ninth regiment and be attached to the fifth brigade," and until the year 1835 the civil divisions of the county were designated by the companies of militia in the respective parts of the county and the civil officers were elected from the various militia companies as they are now from the civil districts.

In 1835 the county was laid off into twenty-five civil districts, but the militia organization remained intact for nearly twenty years longer. Our fathers were opposed to a large standing army, but in the second amendment to the constitution of the United States they declared that "a well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed," and section 24 of article I of the constitution of the State of Tennessee declares "That the sure and certain defence of a free people is a well regulated militia." Under the laws regulating the militia all the able bodied male population between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years were required to perform military duty. They were required at least once a year to assemble at a designated place in the captain's "beat" for instruction in company tactics and drill; and once a year all the companies of the regiment would assemble for instruction and manoeuvres in the battalion drill. These exercises were designated as company and regimental musters. The different "musters" were occasions and places of poplar resort and recreation. The military spirit was so fostered and cultivated that the announcement of a declaration of war, by this county was received with gladness rather than alarm. In the war of 1812 this county furnished a company under Captain William Moore in General Jackson's army and participated in the battle of New Orleans.

In the Indian war of 1836 a full company commanded by Captain Tipps entered the service from Lynchburg and another company of fifty men commanded by Captain Wilson was received for "spy" service.

In 1846, this county furnished a company of eighty-three men for the Mexican war. It was known as the Lincoln Guards and was commanded by Captain Pryor Buchanan, with the following lieutenants: 1st lieut., A. S. Fulton; 2d lieut., John V. Meyers; 3rd lieut., C. A. McDaniel. This company became a part of Col. W. B. Campbell's First Tennessee Regiment, which distinguished itself for gallantry at the battles of Monterey, Vera Cruz, and Cerro Gordo.

When the election returns in November of 1860 showed that Mr. Lincoln was elected president the county was animated by the same sentiment that dominated in a majority of Southern States; that is, that the issues which brought about this result indicated that the long and bitter sectional controversy between the North and the South had reached the crisis. With few exceptions they believed that the States of the South had only one of two alternatives: to submit to a humiliating surrender of their constitutional and reserved rights, or withdraw from the Union....■

Rutherford County, Tennessee, 1809 Tax List

Rutherford County was established in 1803, and because the 1810 census for the county is nonexistent, this tax list assumes importance as one of the earliest enumeration of the county's inhabitants.—Ed.

(p. 1) "A Record of the Taxable Property in Rutherford County for the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and nine."¹ [Ed's. note: The Stud Horse column and tax amount column are not given here because of space restrictions. See the original typescript in the State Library & Archives for these. Also be aware that an additional return of taxes was given in October Court, 1809, and this list is appended to the end of the regular document. It contains a number of names and is not in alphabetical order.]

1809 Senate Seat Disputed by Sampson Williams

A heated dispute arose in 1809 when an election count for a State Senate seat was questioned by candidate Sampson Williams of Jackson County whose opponent was Thomas K. Harris. The file, housed in the Tennessee Library & Archives, Nashville (Legislative Petitions, RG60, 16-2-1809), contains affidavits from people in Jackson, Franklin, White, Warren and Smith counties and includes mention of election irregularities and names of some men under 21 who voted. The following legislative petitions are abstracted in detail so one can garner the flavor of the dispute and will include all genealogical matter, including original signatures if available. The spelling is as found.

Apparently the conflict was not resolved to Sampson Williams's satisfaction. On 18 September, 1809, in Knoxville, the Eighth Tennessee General Assembly was held and Thomas K. Harris is listed as Senator for Jackson, Overton, White, Warren, and Franklin Counties. (Robert H. White, ed., Messages of the Governors of Tennessee, 1796-1821, vol. 1 (Nashville: The Tennessee Historical Commission, 1952), 735)—Researched and contributed by the editor.

"Robert Cowen Deputy Sheriff of Warren County, maketh oath, that he was present at the last election for members of the General Assembly for the County aforesaid — that so far as it came within his knowledge the said election was conducted fairly. That he made the returns of said election at Williamsburg on the Monday immediately succeeding the said election — that the votes for Senator were compared, it was disputed whether Thomas K. Harris had a majority of twenty nine votes more than Sampson Williams, or whether he had a majority of nine only; — that the return from Franklin County excepted that Thomas K. Harris got one hundred and eighty votes, these compleatly to the satisfaction of this deponent... [paper worn at crease] that 180 votes said to be given to Harris was only 160, and that therefore Harris only had a majority of nine votes. — This deponent says that the votes from Franklin County were returned in figures and that the votes for Senator appeared thus Harris 160 - Williams 63 [Williams 63 marked through] — that the returning officer from Franklin offered to swear that Harris got in his County One hundred and eighty votes. — this deponent states that the votes being compared at Williamsburg and Williams's friends being as turbulent, they succeeded in having the votes counted so as to allow Harris only one hundred & Sixty from Franklin, when he [had] a majority of Nine votes without the twenty from franklin which were not counted. This deponent says that the figures aforesaid did purport to be 180, and could not have been counted otherwise except by those interested in doing so. For their were other figures of eight in the same returns, just cimilar to that one. [signed] Robt. Cowan

COFFEE COUNTY, TENNESSEE CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS

From Records of Coffee County - Bible, Family and Tombstone Records, WPA [typescript], Historical Records Project No. 65-44-1499, (no date but circa 1938), Tennessee State Library and Archives, Nashville, Tennessee. The emphasis here is presenting old family graveyards that might have been destroyed since the 1930s.

CASH FAMILY GRAVEYARD

Ibid, pp. 45-47

"The old Cash Family Graveyard is located two and one-half miles south of Hillsboro on the Prairie Plains Road on the Nashville and Chattanooga Highway. And a road running east to west from the Bernice Tate farm of the highway to the Joe Burt farm on Hillsboro Prairie Plains road. The old Cash Homestead now belonging to Mrs. Altha Cash Jenkins. It is one of the oldest in the County, and besides the Cashes, the Harrises, Nevels and Hamptons are among the many prominent families buried there. The Hamptons have always been noted for their long lives. There are 25 unmarked stones, including some of the older members of the Cash family," stated Sammie D. Smith, who read the inscriptions on December 5, 1936.

NEVILL FAMILY BURIAL GROUND

Ibid, pp. 118-119

"This graveyard is on the old Nevill home place which was very large in the early history of the County. Only a part of which is now owned by the Nevill family. The widow and children of Samuel Houston Nevill have a farm home just south of this cemetery. The graveyard is located 3-1/2 miles South of Hillsboro and 12 miles Southeast of Manchester in the 11th Civil District, about 1/4 mile west of the Hillsboro-Prairie Plains road. It is an old pasture land on the farm of Hubert Bryan, and in front of the W. H. Long home, This pasture is overgrown with cedar and other timber but the little graveyard is clear. It is on a hill sloping West.

"Benjamin O. and Robertson Nevill were wealthy landholders when Coffee County was first established in 1836. Benjamin O. Nevill's grave has not been located. Every grave has a fine well cut marker."

Insurance Records of Nashville and Other Middle Tennessee Inhabitants, 1850s

Abstracted and contributed by Mary Sue Smith

The Metro/Davidson County Archives has a rare book used by insurance agents in the years immediately preceeding the Civil War, showing buildings, wares, locations and values for Nashville and surrounding areas of Middle Tennessee. The material gives us the name of owner, exact location and description of the building, contents and use of the structure. The volume was rescued " from the Trunk Room of the Sparks residence on Charlotte Avenue" by Charlotte Solee.

The accompanying map is also found in the Nashville/Davidson County Archives, and although not a part of the book, is a welcomed addition to this article.—Ed.

Cain vs. Jones

(Original Bill heard in Smith County)

Defendant introduced Wm. McClain who said in April 1821 John Wright came to him to draw a will and told him it had been the intention of James Wright in his lifetime to provide for his illegitimate son Henry H. Jones. He had not carried that intention into execution on account of his sudden death and that he (John) having inherited his fortune wished to comply with the intention of his son. He dictated a will and witness wrote it and he signed it, in which he devised the land in dispute, some negroes, etc. to Jones. Witness never saw John Wright after that time till his death. He was at that time (April) entirely sober, had not drank for a long time. He was a strong-minded healthy man for his age. His habits were to drink by spells, when he drank it was usually to excess, and then again he would be entirely sober.

David Douglass said in 1820 (June) shortly after the death of James Wright, John Wright told witness that he intended to give the Hurricane tract of land and some 5 or 6 negroes and some bank stock to Henry H. Jones...being interrogated he said some time after the death of John Wright he was at the house of his widow Nancy he was a constable and went then to levy executions for the debts of John Wright. She complained to witness about the treatment she had received, told him that the sheriff had been there the day before to levy on her property, that she had but one old negro left, that they ought to take some of Jones' property to pay the debts and not the whole of hers, that Jones had gotten too much any how. Witness told her he would befriend her and told her to give him a list of her property, that he would levy on the whole of it and the sheriff would be compelled to look to Jones and she did so. It was personal property and not land she spoke of. The marriage between John Wright and Nancy Williams took place the 18th Augst. 1821. Witness was present. John Wright was drunk at the time and had to hold up by her cloaths [sic] to be married. He was then 74 years old and his wife about 25. He lived two months after marriage to a day and died. He had taken out his license to marry the widow some months before they were married. Witness saw the license perhaps two months before the marriage...

In a conversation with James Wright, he, Wright, told witness that he would give one thousand dollars to know certainly whether the boy Henry H. Jones was his child or not, and in a subsequent conversation Wright said he was satisfied the child was his, as he had sworn the woman himself. In the conversation with John Wright he said he would place $1,000.00 in witness's hands to educate H. H. Jones but never did it. John Wright was at the time duly sober. It had also been reputed the land of Jones after the death of John Wright, that Marley [?] the guardian of Jones had rented it out after the death of Eliz. Wright. Wright had the deed written as he went home. The land was called Jones' after that.

David Rowland has known the general character of Boaz Ford for three or four years and would not believe him on his oath. [Boaz was the witness, above.]

Wm. Cook went to the house of John Wright on 3 September 1821 to buy a land warrant, conversed with John Wright, who said he had given H. H. Jones the Hurricane tract of land. In a previous conversation John Wright said he would give Jones what James Wright had intended for him, that he Jones should have 5 negroes and the Hurricane tract of 640 acres of land. Heard John Wright tell Polly Morrow to tell her husband to build a house on one of the Tibbs tracts and to live in it until Jones became of age as he intended him to have them. Was at Wright's house a few days after this marriage with Nancy Williams. John Wright sober and witness transacted some business with him. Witness saw women about the house drinking some rum toddy, but did not see John Wright drink any. John Wright told him his wife was not satisfied with the negroes she had and he intended to buy more for her....

John P. Rushing & William
Rushing vs. Patsey Leroy
Gibson by her next friend
Thomas French

(Original Bill heard in Stewart County Circuit Court)

On 28th March 1825 a bill of injunction was filed in Stewart County Circuit Court to wit: The bill of complaint of Patsey Leroy Gibson by her next friend Thomas French ...that about the May Term 1820 of the County Court of Stewart one Jno. P. and Wm. Rushing recovered a judgment against Henry Gibson, the father of your orator and one James Haggard and that some short time after the rendition of said judgment the said Rushings took a certified transcript of the records of the county court of Stewart and instituted an action thereon against Henry Gibson who then resided in Christian County, Kentucky, and that said suit, or another suit in equity founded upon the judgment in Christian County is now depending and undetermined in the Court of Chancery in Kentucky against said Gibson for the same alleged debt for which a judgment was recovered in Stewart County.

The appellants John P. and William Rushing recovered a judgment in May 1820 against Henry Gibson the defendant in errors's father, and had an execution issued levied on a negro woman named Charity, claimed by the plaintiff as her property, under a deed of gift from her grandfather Thomas French executed in August 1819 or 1820. Soon after the intermarriage of the defendant's father with her mother who was the only daughter of her grandfather the said Thomas French, the negro Charity was proved to be at the house of her father Henry Gibson, as a servant, where she generally lived for the space of 14 years.

From the decisions in the State of North Carolina and this state...it has been ____ [?] that the unexplained possession of a son-in-law of a negro slave the property of the father -in-law...shall be considered sufficient evidence of a gift by the father-in-law....

HISTORY OF WINCHESTER CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, FRANKLIN COUNTY, TENNESSEE¹

by Mrs. Carrie Vaughan Hale

The typescript, located in the Tennessee Library and Archives, was copied from a paper written prior 1936 by Mrs. Carrie Vaughan Hale for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, "there being no church records to be found prior to 1908." All names are maintained in this edited version, and ellipses indicate where material is deleted. —Ed.

IT HAS BEEN SAID THAT we are only remembered by what we have done and in the history of our local Cumberland Presbyterian Church this statement has been verified. The men and women whose names we recall were closely identified with the church in all its activities and with the spiritual growth of the citizens of Winchester and vicinity—needless to say that from its organization it has been a great blessing and power....

First Church Built in 1827

The first Cumberland Presbyterian Church-house built in 1827 was of logs and stood on the site of Dr. T. B. Anderton's residence. After the present edifice was erected the old building was used as a school house and later was burned to the ground. Among the members of the early church were the Brazeltons, Bairds, Buchanans, Decherds, Estills, Frizzells, Greens, Logans, Hendersons, Loughmillers, Oehmigs, Porters, Reeves, Russeys, Spykers and Stewarts, all pioneer settlers of Winchester. Of this number, my great-grandfather, Benjamin Decherd, organized the first Sunday School in Winchester in 1828 which was held in the Courthouse where both white and colored children were taught; thus we see the Missionary spirit manifested in the early history of the church.

Some years later we find sons of some of these grand men who have become prominent in the affairs of the state. John Frizzell, the son of County Judge Frizzell, was a Mason of note throughout the south and a very fine lawyer who too was honored by being made Judge. Three generations of Greens, I recall - Nathan Green, first Judge; Nathan Green of Cumberland University fame; and his only son, Judge Grafton Green of Lebanon. The late Charles Hyde of Chattanooga, a minister in the Southern Presbyterian, was a grandson of William Reeves. General A. P. Stewart, son of Elizabeth and William Stewart and a nephew of Benjamin Decherd won an enviable record during the war between the States, and afterwards as a teacher in Cumberland University. Birch Tucker was a nephew of Judge Frizzell. We recall with pride the lives and work of these pioneers and their off-spring.

My grandfather, F. A. Loughmiller, who came from Rogersville, Tennessee, in 1832 was married to Elizabeth Decherd, daughter of Julia and Benjamin Decherd in 1839[.] She joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church with her husband, as there was no Presbyterian Church nearer than Shelbyville. Loughmiller took an active part in church work and became the choir director which position he held for many years. He was made a deacon and later an elder which office he held as long as he resided in Winchester. Elizabeth Loughmiller had three brothers in school in Lebanon, two of whom became prominent educators in Texas. To her brother Richard Pleasant Decherd she wrote a letter on April 12, 1844, a portion of which I will give:

"A most glorious revival of religion is going on at this place now. The meeting commenced last Friday with fasting and prayer.... Agnes Estill led the way and was followed by Mrs. B. Porter, Cousin Susan Logan, Jane Buck, Mary Robertson, Martha Reeves, Sally Porter, Jane Venable, Maria Fulcher, Mrs. Robert Williams, and a great many little girls and boys. I will mark the one who have obtained religion amongst these.... Mr. Frizzell seems very serious...."

Elizabeth was called to her reward next year, 1845, a young mother only twenty-five years old....

Second Church Built

On June 13, 1857, the corner stone of the present edifice was laid with Masonic ceremonies. Judge Frizzell, and W. W. Bone—I think—being in charge. Among the things placed in the corner stone were small vials of wheat, corn, oats, various coins, a small Bible, a roster of the Presidents of the U.S.A., the names of the Governors of Tennessee, names of the County officers, a copy of the Winchester "Appeal," and a list of the church officers including pastors (probably Rev. A. J. Baird), Madison Porter, F. A. Loughmiller, J. E. Logan, George W. Hunt, William Reeves, William Buchanan, Adam Oehmig, Thomas S. Logan, Daniel Brazelton, Wilson Brazelton, and John Frizzell. Elisha Meredith contracted for the brick work while William Reeves had the frame work. The church was purely colonial throughout and was completed in about a year. On the first floor, originally there was a hall and one large room which was used as a hall where various organizations held their meetings. I recall the "Good Templers" [sic] as one that for a time flourished. On the second floor at the rear, there was a gallery where the slaves sat and who together with their masters heard the stories of Jesus and his love for sinners. This gallery was closed when the church was redecorated some years ago. In the main auditorium the furniture was purely colonial; a rostrum was reached by a flight of three steps, having a box pulpit which held a large Bible and Hymnal. This pulpit had a door in the rear which opened into a small closet in which the communion set was kept. On each side of the pulpit separated by the steps were pillars about three feet square in which the Hymnals were kept. The benches were poplar wood painted white. The large mixed choir of forty voices [was] under the direction of F. A. Loughmiller....The "Carmina Saera" and the "Sacred Harp" were the Hymnals used. Among the sopranos we find Alice Porter, Julia and Mary Loughmiller, Sallie Frizzell, and Martha Reeves while Fannie Oehmig, Sallie and Virginia Spryker sang alto. F. A. Loughmiller sang the leading tenor, and Madison Porter who had a wonderful voice was the leading bass.... When Madison Porter died our Pastor, the Rev. S. O. Woods, wrote the following: "Madison Porter is dead; He lived without reproach and died without an enemy, and to whomsoever he was known, this announcement will bring sorrow...."

1. Tennessee Miscellaneous Church Records, WPA, N. p., [typescript], Tennessee State Library and Archives.

Winchester Female Academy

As early as 1835 a school for girls called the "Winchester Female Academy" was founded by the Rev. W. A. Scott, a Cumberland Presbyterian Minister, who also filled the pulpit of the local church. He was followed by the Rev. T. C. Anderson, who in turn was followed by Rev. John Biddle in 1838, the school then being called

"The Biddle School." Rev. John Biddle preached and taught until 1853 when the school changed hands again and was called "The Robert Donnell" for its owner. After the War between the States, this school was discontinued. It stood on the site of the late S. M. Alexander residence while Mr. Biddle lived in the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Grisard.

Civil War Years

During the war and the years immediately following, Rev. Mathew Bone filled the pulpit of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. We then had, as I recall, Brothers S. O. Wood, J. B. Lovett, Sheldrake, P. A. Logan, Galloway, J. B. Mitchell, J. Wood Stone, Prather, Hall, Black, and Esham. Rev. J. L. Payne, Rev. W. B. Watterson, and Rev. James Campbell preached in the rural districts but were often with the Winchester congregation. Brother Payne has a daughter, Ada Payne Hereford, who has been a Missionary in Japan many years. Brother Campbell was the father of blind Joseph who was knighted by King Edward VII for his splendid work as a teacher of the blind in England....

The 1870s -1890s

Among the membership in the 70s and 80s, we find Dr. T. C. Murrell who was a much loved physician and whose father, Colonel Zach Murrell, built the church known as "Harmony." We also find the following names: Petty, Simmons, Shook, Templeton, Handly, Marks, Pennington, Hutchens, Turner, Jackson, Carter, Vaughan, Hopkins, and Gaines. Petty, Hopkins, Carter, Vaughan and Gaines were elders and teachers in the Sunday School. Madison Porter had a class of young men. Among the women who taught were Mrs. Julia Vaughan, Mrs. Mary Brazelton, Mrs. Bettie Handly, Miss Ellen Estill, Miss Fannie Jackson, Mrs. Mary Shook, and Mrs. Maggie Fitzpatrick, and Miss Mollie Estill and others I do not recall.

At one time Professor J. W. Terrell, who was a Baptist, had a class of fifty or sixty, composed of adults ranging in ageThis was the inauguration of the Normal System of Bible teaching and was a great success for Professor Terrell....

During this period of the Church's history there were wonderful revivals conducted by evangelists among whom were Rev. J. B. Dermitt of Nashville, Dixon Williams of Chicago, and C. B. Saunders who was known as the sleeping preacher and who wrote "X Y Z" which told of his mental and physical condition while he was in a semi-conscious state.

Eccentric people are found in every congregation and in our own church this was no exception. Mrs. Porter, a devout christian and wife of Madison Porter, was very peculiar. She always sat in a large arm chair facing the congregation. The chair stood on the right of the pulpit between the rostrum and the Amen corner. She was always a little late for services and would sail up the aisle like a ship in full sail. On one occasion she wore her poke bonnet hind part before with the green ostrich plume dangling over her face and seemed unaware of the mistake. The children were convulsed....As I think back, Mrs. Porter must have been near sighted for she often held her hymnal upside down while she lustily sang.

When a cabinet organ was purchased for the church, my aunt, Ellen Loughmiller, became the organist. She was most gifted and played with much feeling. When she moved to the country my mother took her place, then in succession Miss Ann Porter, Carrie Vaughan, Edward Baird, and Nannie Henderson. Nannie Henderson was a fine pianist and a most efficient organist. My mother was director of the choir for a number of years and the music was both fitting and beautiful....

The Cumberland Presbyterian Church has been a factor for good since its organization and my sincere hope and prayer is that in the coming years its traditions may prove an inspiration to the younger generation. ■

Supplement of the INDEX to TENNESSEE CONFEDERATE PENSION APPLICATIONS

An Index to the Pension Applications by County of Residence

Contributed by the Tennessee State Library and Archives

INTRODUCTION

In 1964 the Confederate Pension Applications were indexed and published in book form by the Tennessee State Library and Archives. Long out of print and noting additions and errors were found, Chuck Sherrill, Director of Public Services at the State Library, approached Sam Sistler about updating and reprinting the book. Sam consulted microfilm and original applications when necessary to confirm information, and prepared a computer data base. From this file, a new book was issued. It is an alphabetical state-wide listing entitled Index to Tennessee Confederate Pension Applications, transcribed and edited by Samuel Sistler (1994), and is available from the Byron Sistler & Associates, P.O. Box 120934, Nashville, TN 37212.

After publication of this 1994 book, the Archives asked Sam to resort the data base by counties and the one copy of this listing was bound and placed in Archives under the call E548.S57, 1995 Suppl. It is part of this unpublished supplemental that is being presented in the Journal.

The Confederate Veteran Pension applications, numbering over 16,000, are on microfilm in the Tennessee State Library and Archives, Nashville, Tennessee. (e-mail: reference@mail.state.tn.us) While most of the Confederate veterans pensioned under Tennessee law served in a Tennessee unit, one must be aware that Confederate pensions were granted by the state in which the veteran lived at the time of application regardless of the state in which the soldier enlisted. Some applications contain information about service, as well as personal history. In questionnaire form, other information may be included such as place of birth, number of children, and value of property owned by the veteran.

When Early English Knighthood was in Flower...

Contributed by Mary Sue Smith

Among the many devices employed by the monarch to raise money without the authority of Parliament was to summon large numbers of subjects to take the honour of knighthood, and fining those who declined the invitation. It was founded on ancient precedent, and subverted from its original purpose to fill the royal purse by a system of organized confiscation.¹

The majority of the persons who figure as knights in pedigrees and records prior to the sixteenth century did not receive the accolade in recognition of their prowess in the field or their service to the State; the reason for their distinction was simply that they were possessed of a certain amount of landed property. All laymen of full age holding one knight's fee [ranged from 20 to 40 pounds per year from 1240 to 1600] were bound to become knights. The obligation was a part of the feudal system of military tenure and by the end of Elizabeth's reign compulsory knighthood was regarded as a thing of the past.²

LETTER of M. D. COOPER, Columbia, Tennessee

Columbia, April 20th 1827

Brother Jonathan,

i have at length concluded the bargain for you with Doctr. Oreilly, and I wish you to come out and settle the matter as soon as you can. See Dr. Dickinson & let him renew his notes, payable at such time as he will be certain to be able to meet't, bearing interest from this date - the Doctor will either deliver you the premises on the first of January next or he will deliver them now, subject to the occupancy of the rinter untill 1st Jany. in which case you will get the rent. And you may go on to build a house as soon as you please.

The Doctor is willing to give Dickinson a reasonable time to make payment on paying him interest.

Yours truly
M. D. Cooper.

LETTER of JNO. H. COOPER, 1846

State of Tamelipus Nov. the 22nd 1846
Camp in three miles of Matamoras

Dear Father

Thinking it unnecessary to give you a full history from Washington up to the present sffice it to say that I traveled in health untill I reached Uncle Hamilton Cooper there I took the jaundess & remained for a week untill my health improved. I traveled then a good part of Texas on either side of the trail & I have saw no section of country that there was both water & land. uncle Hamilton's family were nearly all sick after we passed Washington texas it was prarie from there to Port Lavaca there stayed some ten days waiting for further orders & finally the Regiment was ordered to Camargo there was some forty men an well, sent from there to Camargo by water I my self included we went in a very small schooner and put out with a good breeze. on the second day, there arose a norther and blew us nearly to New Orleans we changed our course, Next morning and landed on the lands of the "Riogrande" in sven days from when we left the port from thence we took a boat and run to Camargo the river was low & very crooked running to all points of the compass in an hour & part of the time we were aground which gave me a chance to see texas on the right and Mexico of the left my choice of lands would be the bottoms of the riogrande where you can raise three crops of cotton off one planting the riogrande is the Mississippi of Mexico we landed at Camargo in six days from the month we were there under the charge of Jen. Patterson from Philadelphia & much of a gentleman he visited oure amp night & morning, after I left the Redgiment the order was charged to Matamoras & I went down on the same boat several men from Monterey some without legs & some without arms who inferers me that the Tennessee inf. were the boys to face a cannon I would like to tell you what I know of order of the days at the battle, but will omit it until A. G. Cooper returned from Camargo in the latter Nov. he says that Jen Pillows camp will be sent to Mexico by water ther we will fight the battle of Waterloo but that is not sutain, the Redgiment is genarally in good health the Bugle is sounding for a sermon Your son Jno. H. Cooper

To G. E. Cooper If you should happen to write to me at this point where I will expect to receive a letter do not leave me in doubt like Paris did about the white dress that raised my curiosity more then the Mexicans. in speaking of mexicans while I was at Camargo there had been two very fine young men lareped & their throats cut by the Mexicans out of the Tenn. Inf. about three or four hundred was from camp who had gone out in search of them the boys in revenge had killed between forty or fifty although there is a guard day & knight they pass by the guard by putting their guns inside of their pantaloons on either side of the River you can see them five & six in a pile & noboddy done it

Your brother Jno. H. Cooper

To W. J. Cooper it would not supprise me to see one sitting on a log pulling flowers with one hand & eatting watermellons with the other. Dote of this but it is not worth my while to wright to about flowers after getting that white dress

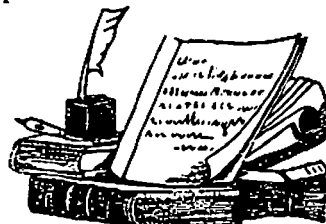

you[r] Bro. Jno. H. Cooper

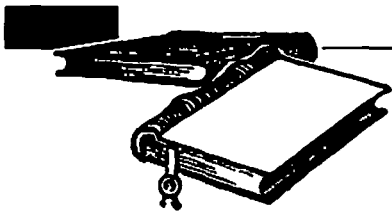

tell haris to write to this point and all the balance tell mother there is a probability of us being at home Feb. '47 save some apples

BOOK REVIEWS

by Shirley Wilson, CG

The Reconstructed 1810 Census of Tennessee by Charles A. Sherrill. Hardback 8-1/2 x 11, 600 pp., map, 2001. $60 plus $5 shipping from author, 1023 Waters Edge Circle, Mt. Juliet, TN 37122. TN residents add $5.30 sales tax.

If ever a project needed "doing," it is this one. Tennessee was not included in the 1790 federal census because statehood came in 1796. The 1800 and 1810 census for Tennessee are "missing" (except for a couple of counties), making early research very difficult.

Sherrill has used tax lists, wills and estates, deeds, court minutes, church records, petitions, legislative acts and land grants from 1809 to 1811 to reconstruct a list of residents in all of Tennessee's 1810 existing counties.

The arrangement is alphabetical by name and each entry includes the county, the type of record from which the entry was taken and the source. A list of Tennessee counties with formation dates and parent counties is a helpful addition. Counties extant in 1810 are in bold type. There is also a map that depicts the area covered by the existing counties in 1810.

This is an important contribution to genealogical research in Tennessee and serious researchers won't want to be without this excellent finding aid.

Nicholas Cobb Descendants, Neighbors and Relatives 1613-1983 by Joe H. Cobb. Hardback 6 x 9, 583 pp., bibliography, illustrations, index, map, c1984. $30 postpaid from Mrs. Louise Cobb, 2757 Rosedale Place, Nashville, TN 37211-2080.

Nicholas Cobb lived and died in Isle of Wight County, Virginia and the author presents many early records including those indicating a connection to the immigrant Joseph Cobb. Nicholas Cobb's children migrated to the area of the Tar River in North Carolina in the counties of Edgecombe, Pitt and Beaufort. Descendants went to Haywood County, Tennessee.

This is a large genealogy containing excellent information on many descendants. Although some type of numbering system would have been a welcome addition, the author has presented the material so that family lines can be followed. Footnotes in the book are not sequential and relate to numbered bibliography entries, thus providing the source of the data. A thorough, every name index makes the book easy to use. Cobb descendants will want to add this book to their library collection and it should also be helpful to those with roots in Isle of Wight County.

Descendants of Bartholomew Stovall (1655-1722) (First Five American Generations) by Donald E. Bishop. Softback 8-1/2 x 11, 396 pp., appendix, index, 1999. $25 postpaid from Don E Bishop, 21 Flem Phillips Road, Laurel, Mississippi 39443-2919.

Bartholomew Stovall was born 24 August 1665 in Albury Parish in Surrey County, England and died about 1721 in Deep Creek, Powhatan County, Virginia.

This publication follows his descendants from his marriage in 1693 to Anne Burton. Some of this material was published in The Stovall Family & Related Lines Vol. I & II by Lyle Williams and The Family of Bartholomew Stovall Vol. I by Neil Thompson. It also follows the descendants of Hagar Stovall who was born about 1683 and married to William Tabor. Hagar is believed, but not proven, to be the daughter of Bartholomew by an earlier marriage.

A variation of the Standard Register System was used, wherein a plus sign next to a name means there is more information on that individual later in the book. In this case the information ends at #1687 and the plus signs continue through #5252. A query to the author revealed that more information is in a database that wasn't included in the publication. An explanatory page stating that fact would have been a helpful addition to the book.

Although not footnoted, most family entries indicate from whence the data was obtained. A very thorough every name index adds value to this book, which will be welcomed by Stovall descendants.

The Adams Family Kith and Kin by Irene Adams Proctor. Hardback 6 x 9-1/4, 1208 pp., index, photographs, c2000. $50 plus $5 postage from author, 3856 Valley Ridge Drive, Nashville, TN 37211.

"From Halifax County, Virginia to Yellow Creek Valley and Grices Creek, Houston County, Tennessee" is the subtitle for this book. That in itself explains much about this particular Adams family. John Adams (1700-1780) was the emigrant ancestor from Wales and descendants also lived in Dickson, Montgomery and Humphreys counties in Tennessee.

Proctor has published her huge (1208 pages) collection of family data so that others may benefit from it. It is primarily from personal family files and interviews. It is well organized, considering that no overall numbering system was used. Fortunately, a good index enables the reader to locate names of interest.

Other surnames found in the index in significant numbers were Adkins, Breeden, Brocks, Clark, Dickson, Ellis, Halliburton, Hankins, Hill, Jones, Moore, Nolen, Parchman, Rye and Walker. If your ancestors are in this book, it is one you will want to purchase.

QUERIES

Queries will be included in order received, as space permits. Address: Middle Tennessee Genealogical Society Queries, P. O. Box 330948, Nashville, TN 37203-7507. It is important that your name and address be placed on the same sheet as the query. Capitalize, underline or highlight all surnames and maiden names only. Check for spelling and legibility of names, particularly surnames when handwritten. Where the correct surname spelling cannot be confirmed, use the one you prefer first with optional spelling in parentheses. Bobby A. Ezell, Queries Editor

MELVIN: William MELVIN married Tabitha GILLESPIE in Wilson Co TN in 1838. They lived in the first District close to the Davidson Co line & Hermitge. William (b 1810 NC) was brought by his parents to Wison Co as a young child. One brother, Peter MELVIN m Mary JACKSON in Wilson Co in 1843. In 1868 they moved to Golconda IL. Peter was a minister and one of the charter members of New Hope Baptist Church. Other possible siblings are John MELVIN who m Nancy WILSON in 1827, James MELVIN who m Almeda JOHNSON in 1855, & Owen B. MELVIN. I am trying to find parents & siblings of William and Peter MELVIN. VANCE/BRUNSON/DUNNAHOE: Seeking family of Sarah VANCE (b 19 Mar 1790) who married Asbel BRUNSON Jr 22 Feb 1820. Need family for my gr-gr-grandfather Asabel Brunson DUNNAHOE. Martha (Dunnahoe) Prothro/1091 Wrens Nest Rd, Rt 1/Monteagle TN 37356/(931)924-2316.

DENNY/CHERRY: Seeking parents of Benjamin Rush DENNY (b 25 Jun 1838 on Stewarts Creek in Rutherford Co TN, d 13 Jun 1891 possibly in Nashville TN) & also of Margaret Ann CHERRY. They m 11 Jan 1860 in Williamson Co TN w/I. H. Hendrix as bondsman. Margaret died 10 Mar 1868 according to a DENNY Bible, & it is thought she was buried in CHERRY homeplace(?). She left three children, two of whom died in their twenties. The third, William Green DENNY b Rockvale TN, d 6 Sep 1944 at Jefferson Springs TN, having lived in Nashville for many years. B. R. DENNY in the 1850 census was living with an OWEN family and aged 12 years. His older brother, Francis Marion DENNY was living with the HAYNES family in 1850, not too far from his brother. HOOTON: Seeking info on the family of Riley HOOTON. The 1850 US census of Perry Co., TN on 27 Sep 1850: Riley WHOOTON, 32, M, Farmer; Nancy, 28, F; William 6, M; Vicy Jane, 9, F; John, 5, M; Thomas, 2, M; Charles 5/12, M. All born in Tennessee. The 1860 US census of Lawrence Co., AR; Reed's Creek Township on 6 Jul 1860: #430 Riley HOOTON, age 41, M; Nancy, 39, F; John J. 14, M; Thomas B., 12 (all born in TN) Fairchild B., 8, M, born in AR also Richard J., 5, M; Amanda C., 3, F; Susan J. 2/12, F. Flo Hooton Gates/3607 Bella Vista Dr/Midwest City OK 73110-3807.

ROBERSON: I am trying to locate parents of Andrew Jackson ROBERSON (b 24 Oct 1815 Lincoln Co TN). A brother "Lodwick" was born in 1819 in AL. The family later moved to MS. Lodwick is my gr-gr-grandfather. The 1830 Pickens Co AL census lists a "Lodwick" ROBERSON with children whose ages would be consistant with little Lodwick and A. J. in a HH of 11 people. Perhaps this is Lodwick's father, a Sr. He also is listed as Loderwick ROBERTSON on 1824 Pickens Co Comm. Court. In 1840 MS census index in Newton Co is listing for Lodewick ROBESON Sr, which could be same person with family ages corresponding (A.J. and Lodwick Jr grown & left by this time). This would all fit with Lodwick Jr growing up in Newton Co (as A. J.'s Tx obit says), then leaving home & moving to Lowndes Co, before marrying & migrating to TX in 1840's. In "Wills & Inventories of Lincoln Co TN" is a ref to both a Loderick ROBERTSON & Loderick ROBERTSON Jr in 1859 & 1868, in connection with wit. or exec. will of other persons, but my Lodwick was in TX at this time. He d in 1873 in Burleson Co TX. A. J. ROBERSON d in neighboring Washington Co in 1897. Dennis Roberson/8124 Island Park Dr/Fort Worth TX 76137.

JOHNSON-SWEANEY: In the 1840 census of Davidson Co TN (River Road Area) Ellen JOHNSON is listed (age 30-40) with 7 males (under 20-30) and 3 females (under 20-30). In the 1850 census of Davidson Co (same area) is William JOHNSON with his wife: Lucinda (CARINGTON) & their family & with them are the following JOHNSONS: Susan 30; John 22; Allison 19; Thomas 17 (he is buried in the JOHNSON Cem on Cedar Hill Road in Cheatham Co TN; and Nancy 12. Are these the children of Ellen JOHNSON and what was her maiden name? Believe Mary JOHNSON who m John Green SWEANY in Davidson Co on 11 Feb 1841 was her dau also. Who was the father of the above? Your help will be greatly appreciated. Martha C. Cooke/312 River Oaks Road/Brentwood TN 37027-4940/mccooke1@juno.com

THOMPSON-CLARK: Need parents of Jane THOMPSON, b 1820 VA, m 6 Mar 1838, Davidson Co TN John Atkinson CLARK, b 16 Feb 1811 Halifax Co VA, d 24 Nov 1884 in Williamson Co., Jane Thompson CLARK died 27 Jun 1856 in Kingston Springs, Cheatham Co TN & buried on the "Jim MAYS Place". Her brother was Thomas Tyree (Terry) THOMPSON, b 1825 VA & m Ann J. CHARLTON. He was a minister. By 1880 John Atkinson CLARK was living alone in Dist # 1 of Williamson Co TN. Is Jane Thompson CLARK a dau of William THOMPSON & his wife Mary SCOTT who lived in Dist 1 of Williamson Co TN? Would appreciate any help. Martha C. Cooke/312 River Oaks Road/Brentwood TN 37027-4940/mccooke1@juno.com

DRUMMOND: Looking for a connection of Thomas DRUMMOND (b ca 1771 NC, d 1832 Dickson TN. His father was also Thomas DRUMMOND/DRUMMON of NC, but who was his grandfather? Was he from Scotland? Where is the connection? Would like to swap info. Thomas' wife was Margaret. Marcia Bourdeau/7720 Lakeshore/Port Huron, MI 48059/(810)327-6565/mjbordo@aol.com ■
