Journal Policy and Information	Inside Back Cover

Sometimes wills were contested. This meant that the heirs were frequently in and out of court for years after the death of their loved one. Therefore, the researcher should search the records for several years after the filing of the will to see if this was the case.

Most often, guardians were appointed for children who had not reached their majority. If these children were willed slaves, many times the slaves were hired out while the conditions of the will were being met or until the child came of age. The income from their hire had to be reported to the courts. The names of the slaves and the amount that they earned will be in the probate court records.

An inventory of the estate might also list the names as well as the ages of the slaves. Sometimes a brief description accompanies the entry. For example, "Jeff, scarification of face." "Yellow Mary." "Tom, an idiot." "Old Dicey." Their purchase, if sold, or their draw by the slave owners' family members will thereby create a document listing the slaves by name.

The researcher should check to see if Emeline was listed in any family member's will as part of a family group. For example: "1st family of Negroes: Big Jeff and wife Mary, children Peter, Jincy, Jimmy, Emeline, Gus." There is a strong likelihood that the researcher just identified Emeline's sisters and brothers. Further research would be needed to prove it, however.

LEARNING THE NAMES AND LOCATIONS of the slave owners' parents, his sisters and brothers, and learning who intermarried with whom also serve as clues. Information presented in this diary indicates that J.H. Bills had a brother, Dr. Bills, who lived near Frankfort, Kentucky. Bills' mother lived in Maury County. Did J.H. Bills' father die in Maury County? Did he leave a will? If so, are slaves mentioned? Were the slave families divided amongst the heirs or were they sold in order to settle the estate? Many times slave families were separated by wills. At other times they were hired out to family members. Having this information allows the researcher to look into the records created for those individuals to see if a family member might be there. The whole idea is to locate as many ancestral generations as possible, so having answers to these questions is vital.

The following list had no heading, but it appears to be a list of slaves living on one of the plantations owned by J.H. Bills, along with their values. Information of this type was needed for tax records.

1 Jany, 1845

The reader can make several assumptions about the individuals in the list based on their valuations. Those with lower prices were usually young children or were individuals who were too old to work in the fields. Older women served as caregivers to the children of the field hands, cooks for the field workers, or they performed other tasks that didn't require much physical labor.

Thursday, May 21, 1846

"Harriet has a daughter born unto her."

Friday, Mar. 1, 1848

"Richard, son of Andrew and Lavenia born this day."

Thurs., Mar. 1, 1849

"Paul T. Jones is married to my daughter in law, Miss Jane Margaret Wood."

(This clue serves to inform the researcher of another place to look. Was a slave given as a wedding gift? Check deeds for this time period to see. Deeds of gift as well as bills of sale can be found in deeds.)

Monday, Apr. 30, 1849

"My servant, Lucinda was born unto her son."

Friday, Oct. 13, 1854

"Line, alias Emeline at the Hickory Valley farm is delivered of a son Paul."

Monday, Oct. 30, 1854

Monday, April 14, 1856

"My woman Lucinda has a fine boy this morning. It is her seventh son living. She has brought forth eight sons — never had daughters."

The information above suggests several things. First, that the slaves were allowed to have some farming activities of their own, and that they sold some of their goods to their master. Secondly, it informs the researcher of the names of some of the slaves who were on the plantation in 1856.

Sept. 26, 1857

Dreadful Death.

"Nashville Clarion. July 5, 1814.

Charles Baker in perfect health died on Trace Creek in Williamson County on Sunday last. He was a profane wicked man, of turbulent passion, and much given to blasphemy. On the morning of his death he attempted to make a calf suckle a cow that was not willing to do it. In scuffling to do it, the calf escaped, and he, as was usual with him, pursued the calf with the most blasphemous language, and all at once fell down dead. As he fell, he exclaimed, 'Lord have mercy on me,' and died as soon as if shot through the head. In a short time, the corpse was as black as a hat."

About to Leave My Home: Jesse D. Bond's Trip to California

by Juanita Patton

*"I Jesse D. Bond being about to leave my home in Sumner County for a time with intention to go to California do nominate and appoint by these presents James Padgitt my Attorney in fact and general Agent to transact all my business in the State of Tennessee in my absence of every Kind and description to attend to all my Collections, carry on my farm, buy and sell and do all other matters and things for me and in my name to give acquittances and whatever he may consider best and necessary for my interest and that of my family hereby ratifying and confirming whatever may be done by him lawfully for me in my name as fully as if I were personally present doing the Same myself and my Said Agent & Attorney is further authorized and empowered to employ other attorney & agents under him for any of the purposes aforesaid Witness my hand & seal this 9th day of April 1850."*¹

[Signed by J. D. Bond; Registered in Sumner County, TN, 8 May 1850]

Why was Bond planning to go to California? Could he be one of the 49ers, a friend asked? The index of Walter T. Durham's book Volunteer Forty-Niners listed a Jesse D. Bond. Could this be the same man, we wondered; indeed it was the Sumner Countian who had made the Power of Attorney appointment above. Bond and John J. Hibbett, also of Sumner County, had organized a stock company to "acquire gold or money... in California." Bond, who was named manager, would be accompanied by his son, Thomas, Hibbett's son, James L., and three other men. John J. Hibbett remained at home.²

From Middle Tennessee to California in 1850, whether overland or by sea, was a long and arduous trip, and frequently the adventurers did not make it. Fortunately a lawsuit found in the loose record collection at Sumner County Archives confirmed that Bond reached California and had returned to Sumner County. The lawsuit was filed against him by John J. Hibbett 22 December 1851. According to Hibbett, Bond owed him $832.50 by note, excluding interest but including $120.50 that James L. Hibbett had advanced to him while they were in California. Hibbett told the judge that Bond had sold his "valuable tract of land on Rocky Creek³...and advertised his personal property except slaves for sale this next Saturday and is making every preparation to move to Texas." Hibbett asked the court to order attachment of Bond's property. An order was issued to Sheriff D.P. Hart 23 December 1851 authorizing him to attach Bond's property. On 25 December 1851, Sheriff Hart seized the slaves owned by Bond. In response to this lawsuit, a replevin bond "in the sum of $2,000" was signed by Jesse D. Bond and Ransom L. Winne and filed with the court 24 December 1851. Bond was to appear at the next term of the Chancery Court "in April next [1852]." Apparently he made an appearance and settled his debt. The following notation appears on the filed document: "Dismissed April 5th 1852 by Compts."⁴

Although Jesse and his son, Thomas, left Tennessee in the spring of 1850, the census record dated 6 September 1850 included him and his son as follows:

Jesse D. Bond, a farmer, age 45, who was born in Virginia; his wife, Sarah, 44, born in Tennessee, and Thomas, 18, born in Tennessee. The value of their real estate located in District 2 was estimated to be $2,000.⁵ Jesse, Sarah, and Thomas Bond do not appear in the Sumner County census after 1850.

Did they go to Texas? A search of the 1860 census records of Texas was inconclusive. The index of the 1860 Federal Census for Texas listed several Bonds including a Jesse Bond in Brown County and a J.D. Bond in Harris County.⁶ The microfilm for those two counties was read. Jesse Bond of Brown County was only 34 and born in Mississippi. He was not the Sumner Countian we were looking for.⁷ The page of the Harris County census on which J.D. Bond should have been listed was unreadable,⁸ therefore we are left wondering where Jesse and Sarah Bond were living after the spring of 1852.

Although the family's new location could not be confirmed, it does seem clear that Jesse D. Bond, like the majority of the 49ers, left California without the wealth anticipated as he prepared for the trip in the spring of 1850.

Coffee County Inmates in the Tennessee State Penitentiary, 1851-1870

Contributed by Charles A. Sherrill

The following names appear in a ledger listing the inmates incarcerated in the State Penitentiary at Nashville from the period surrounding the Civil War. The original records, available on microfilm at the Tenn. State Library and Archives in Record Group 25, sometimes reveal additional personal information about the individuals. Each of those listed was sentenced in Coffee County, though their actual residence at the time may have been elsewhere. Records of the Coffee County Circuit Court should provide details about their indictments and trials.

A FRANKLIN COUNTY, TENNESSEE, TITLE ABSTRACT

Compiled by Betty M. Majors

This title abstract was found in the loose court papers of Coffee County, being an exhibit to the lawsuit of Arthur Crownover vs Planters Bank and Trust Co., et al, which was heard in the Chancery Court of Coffee County, Tennessee on 27 Nov 1916. This is the abstract of the title of Mrs. Lou G. Pattie. Notes made by the attorneys and abstractor are included in parentheses as found. Any notation by the compiler is set in brackets. A note at the beginning of this title states that this tract of land was part of two grants, to wit: From the State of Tennessee to Edward Harris, Grant No. 477 and second, the State of Tennessee to Absolom Tatum, Grant No. 64. These grants came down to Joseph Acklen.—BMM

STATE OF TENNESSEE To EDWARD HARRIS. GRANT NO. 477. Dated Sept. 14, 1808, Recorded in Book "A", page 45, Register's office, Winchester. For military service, land warrant No. 2018 to William Meeks and assigned to Edward Harris for the following described tract of land: 228 acres lying in Franklin County, Tennessee in the 2nd District, 8th Range and 2nd Section on the waters of Boiling Fork of Elk River, beginning at a black oak and a double hickory on the east boundary line of said section 30 poles north of the northwest corner of Robert Mckaney's Occupant Claim of 200 acres, running thence west 160 poles to a stake and pointers; thence north 228 poles to a black jack standing on a high point; thence east 180 poles to a black oak, post oak and hickory in the said section line; thence with the same 228 poles to the beginning. (Note: At this date [1915] it is immaterial whether the wife joined in the deed at all, as the title was not in her and all she could have claimed was homestead and dower, which has long since ceased to exist.)

JAMES H. SHROPSHIRE & WIFE, BETSY SHROPSHIRE, To ALEXANDER YOUNG. Warranty Deed, Dated Dec. 21, 1818, Acknowledged in open court February Term, 1819, before John Spyker, clerk. Wife's name does not appear in body of deed or in the acknowledgment certificate, but her name is subscribed to the deed, conveying the above described 152 acres and the description is identical with the foregoing deed. (Note: It is not necessary for the wife to have joined in the deed at all as she only owned homestead and dower interest which have long since ceased to exist.)

ALEXANDER YOUNG To JOSEPH ACKLIN. Warranty Deed, Dated March 15, 1821, Acknowledged in open court November Term, 1822, before E. Russell, clerk. Recorded in Book "D", page 132. All of the land in this section was at one time in Rutherford County; later on it was divided and this section was put into White County, and then later on it was divided again and this immediate section was made into Franklin County.)

ABNER TATUM To JOSEPH ACKLIN. Warranty Deed, Dated Sept. 17, 1812, Proven in Open court May session, 1813, before A. Russell, clerk. Registered June 11, 1813 in Book "B", page 164. Indian Treaty Cessions in the Sequatchie Area

EARLY SETTLERS IN SEQUATCHIE VALLEY, TENNESSEE

By Dorothy Williams Potter

DURING THE COURSE OF SETTLEMENT IN WHAT IS NOW TENNESSEE, MANY WHITES—in their eagerness to obtain choice land—sometimes “intruded” on Indian-held land. This brought much consternation to both the state and national government officials charged with keeping the peace on the frontiers.

Lists were obtained of these citizens “that settled themselves on Indian Lands, secured by treaty to the Cherokees...” for the purpose of removing them—with or without military aid. As one can see from the varying years given, this operation of removal was not always successful. Presented here is a group of people seated on Indian land that was partly in the southeastern section of Middle Tennessee. The spelling is given as written on the list.

In the 1809 report of Return Jonathan Meigs, he states that “Sequachee Valley” was 25 miles from the South West Point Garrison, (now Kingsport, Tennessee).

Rutherford County, Tennessee, 1809 Tax List

Rutherford County was established in 1803, and, contrary to an earlier statement, the 1810 census for the county is existant. Please correct your Volume XV, Number 1 introduction.—Ed.

(p. 1) "A Record of the Taxable Property in Rutherford County for the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and nine."¹ [Ed's. note: The Stud Horse column and tax amount column are not given here because of space restrictions. See the original typescript in the State Library & Archives for these. Also be aware that an additional return of taxes was given in October Court, 1809, and this list is appended to the end of the regular document. It contains a number of names and is not in alphabetical order.]

Revolutionary War Soldiers with Montgomery County, Tennessee, Ties:

Elisha Battle, Reuben Chapman, Samuel Northington, Sr.,
Samuel Northington, Jr., Samuel R. Smith, and John Turnley

In 1937 and 1938, WPA workers were sent out into the counties to record historical information in many forms: bible records, cemeteries, and personal papers - just to name a few types. In Montgomery County, Tennessee, this included visits by Grace Spencer and Mrs. Johnnie Watson to women who apparently were current members of the DAR. Although available elsewhere in a different form, this information is more complete for it includes generations prior to the Revolutionary War, and therefore important to persons trying to piece together these early families. However, remember the scholarship available in 1937 may not measure up to current standards.

All of the following data is transcribed from these WPA reports. The typescript is called Tennessee, Records of Montgomery, Historical Records Project No. 465-44-3-115, and is housed in the Tennessee State Library and Archives in open stacks with a call "MT." —Ed.

Steinbeck of Cape Girardeau County State of Missouri ...have sold unto the said Daniel F. Edward Gwin, Sr. vs. James Adams, Solomon Rosel,
Samuel Woods & Edward Bucy
(Original Bill heard in Circuit

Humbly complaining...your orator Edward Gwin, Senior of the County of Carroll and State of Tennessee that sometime in the year 1797 a certain James Adams of the state of South Carolina put into the hands of your orator a military warrant containing 640 acres belonging to him the said James Adams, that it was agreed between your orator and said James Adams that your orator was to locate said warrant and superintend the surveying of the land upon which said warrant should be located for which services your orator was to have from the said James Adams one-fourth part of the land so located which agreement between your orator and the said James Adams was reduced to writing and placed in the hands of a certain Peter Lemmons, dec'd. of Sumner County and State of Tennessee... That in pursuance of said agreement between your orator and the said James Adams, your orator went on located and obtained a grant therein from the State of North Carolina and your orator further sheweth that sometime after the issuance of said grant that a certain Solomon Rosel now of the county of Henderson and State of Tennessee came to your orator and represented himself as the agent of said James Adams to divide and set apart to your orator his portion of the said 640 acres of land...

The land was located and granted upon Station Camp in Smith County. About 1804 Adams sold to Rosel, and he to James Turner. Rosel was to settle the interest of Gwyn for locating by giving him $\frac{1}{4}$ the land—203 acres were laid off to him of the poorer part of the tract, but no conveyance made. Still the partition was evidenced by writing between Rosel & Gwyn. Afterwards, (when does not appear) 453 acres of the grant was taken by an older grant of Anthony Hart; about the first of the year 1820, Gwyn drew the warrant for the interference of 453 acres in the name of James Adams the grantee, which on the 24th July 1821 he caused to be located in Carroll County.

John Gwyn was the locator of the Entry of 1821. Woods applied to him to buy the locating interest, Gwyn told him that Edwd. Gwyn was the owner of the interest in part of the Entry, and stated to him all the circumstances of Ed. Gwyn's claim.

Woods presently sent an agent to So. Carolina and purchased the 453 acre for $280.00 and immediately turned about and sold it to the deft. Bucy for $800.00....

—Priscilla Sugg vs. Anthony Lee. Trespass.

This day came the parties aforesaid by their attornies and thereupon came a jury of good and lawful men, to wit, Peter Black, Hosea Roberts, Timothy Anderson, Alford Evans, John Johnson, Samuel H. Burton, Burwell Lashlee, William Prince, Charles Winsted, Edmund Wildridge, Lewis Barker and Hilory Capps who...do say that they find that the plaintiff Priscilla Jugg is not a slave the property of the sd. Defendant as in pleading he hath alledged, but that she is a free woman and they assess the plaintiff damages by reason of the trespass aforesaid to fifty cents besides her costs....

Be it remembered on the trial of this cause the plaintiff produced in evidence the following depositions, to wit, the deposition of William Ezell, Richard Stone, Joseph Colson, Humphrey Nelson & Elizabeth Russell. The plaintiff then introduced Samuel Jordon who proved that he was raised in Brunswick County, Virginia and raised in the neighborhood of Josiah Floyd and whilst a boy 12 or 15 years old he was in the habit of visiting his grandmother who resided about 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Floyd and also his uncle Winfield who resided about two miles from said Floy and that he became acquainted with Priscilla Jugg the present plaintiff at this uncle Winfield's and that she had been placed there by Floyd as a nurse and appeared to be then ten or twelve years of age, that he frequently saw her there and she was then reputed to be of a free race of people and to have been descended from Indian ancestors, and that her grandmother Nany Jugg was reputed to be an Indian and that she had remained among the white people when the Indians were driven frn that part of the country, that he frequently saw Franky Jugg the mother of Priscilla Jugg at his uncle Winfield's and at his grandmother's and at no other time than on Sunday and visiting her daughter Priscilla, and at one time he saw Judy Jugg the sister of Franky Jugg with the said Franky at his uncle's visiting the said Priscilla, that they were yellow complected but does not recollect anything of their eyes or hair, and that they were generally reputed to be of a free race of people.

Said Priscilla Jugg was afterwards reputed to have been sold by Floyd to one Daniel Shelton a Tailor residing in the neighbourhood two or three miles from said Floyd's and by said Shelton she was sold to one Ezzel residing ten or twelve miles from said Floyd's, and that after the this time the said witness heard of a suit having been instituted in Brunswick by a brother of the said Franky Jugg and an uncle of the said Priscilla claiming his freedom, and that he died before the termination of the suit, and that the said Ezzel as it was generally reported ran the said girl Priscilla off to North Carolina to prevent her getting her freedom, that in the year 1817 the said Jordon removed to Montgomery County in the State of Tennessee and shortly after that time said Priscilla Jugg came to see him and that they then had much conversation as to her relations and that he was satisfied that the said Priscilla was the same girl that he had been formerly acquainted with in Brunswick County, and thinks that he should have known her from her resemblance to the family. Jordon also proved that he resided seven or eight miles from Floyd's, that he never saw Priscilla or her mother going about the neighborhood in which he lived. Jordon also proved that when he left Virginia in 1817 the Jugg family were all run off from that section of the state as he understood, and that most of the Floyd family had removed to other sections of the country....

Henry Rutherford vs.
John Wheaton
(Original Bill heard in Williamson County)

Humbly complaining your orator Henry Rutherford of Madison County in State of Tennessee that in the year 1785 he was employed as a deputy surveyor under William T. Lewis principal surveyor of the Western District of the State of North Carolina to make surveys in that section of country and amongst others he made surveys of 97,000 acres of land in the name of Benja. Smith plats and certificates of which surveys were regularly made out and returned to the Secretary's office of the State of North Carolina and grants issued thereon, for which services your orator was entitled to receive $248.00 being half fees the other half his principal was entitled to but no part of which was ever paid of said lands there. Surveyed for and granted to Benjamin Smith were eleven tracts of 5,000 acres each lying on the South Fork of Forked Deer River and its waters and within the jurisdiction of this court, numbers of grants 400, 401, 402, 403, 407, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414 & 415 which on the ____ [blank] day of ____ [blank] were conveyed by said Smith to Daniel Wheaton...

The Indian title to that section of country where said lands are situated was not extinguished until the year 1819 before which very little was known respecting that part of the country and still less of the locality of the surveys which had been made in consequence of which much difficulty existed in establishing the surveys. Indeed without the information of your orator aided by his field notes many of the tracts could never have been established. Your orator would state that said Daniel Wheaton in whom the title of said eleven tracts of 5,000 acres each was vested many years ago departed this life intestate leaving Sterling Wheaton and John Lord Wheaton his heirs at law of whom William Wilkerson of Williamson County was their guardian....

The defendant to shew the title out of the lessor of the plaintiff offered in evidence the record of the suit Russell Gower vs Alexander Nelson and the administrator of said Alexander and the judgment upon the Scire Facias against Robert Nelson heir of said Alexander, which is hereto annexed...and also read a copy of the Sheriff's amended return to the execution and the clerk's certificate of and the appointment of a guardian and the guardian bond hereto annexed....

Supplement of the INDEX to TENNESSEE CONFEDERATE PENSION APPLICATIONS

An Index to the Pension Applications by County of Residence

Contributed by the Tennessee State Library and Archives

INTRODUCTION

In 1964 the Confederate Pension Applications were indexed and published in book form by the Tennessee State Library and Archives. Long out of print and noting additions and errors were found, Chuck Sherrill, Director of Public Services at the State Library, approached Sam Sistler about updating and reprinting the book. Sam consulted microfilm and original applications when necessary to confirm information, and prepared a computer data base. From this file, a new book was issued. It is an alphabetical state-wide listing entitled Index to Tennessee Confederate Pension Applications, transcribed and edited by Samuel Sistler (1994), and is available from the Byron Sistler & Associates, P.O. Box 120934, Nashville, TN 37212.

After publication of this 1994 book, the Archives asked Sam to resort the data base by counties and the one copy of this listing was bound and placed in Archives under the call E548.S57, 1995 Suppl. It is part of this unpublished supplemental that is being presented in the Journal.

The Confederate Veteran Pension applications, numbering over 16,000, are on microfilm in the Tennessee State Library and Archives, Nashville, Tennessee. (e-mail: reference@mail.state.tn.us) While most of the Confederate veterans pensioned under Tennessee law served in a Tennessee unit, one must be aware that Confederate pensions were granted by the state in which the veteran lived at the time of application regardless of the state in which the soldier enlisted. Some applications contain information about service, as well as personal history. In questionnaire form, other information may be included such as place of birth, number of children, and value of property owned by the veteran.

JACK RAINES RETURNS

Pulaski Man Pays Fines and Costs at Huntsville, Ala.

Huntsville, Ala., Feb. 8 - (Special) - Jack Raines, who eloped from Pulaski not long since with Miss Ella Hays, of that place, is again in the city, and has paid off the fines and court costs held against him in Pulaski, which are about $2,000. He says he will never return to his home.

[Letter]

Flournoy River, Counselor at Law
Pulaski, Tenn. Feby 10th 1901

Hon. Thos. D. Samford
Governor of Alabama
Montgomery, Ala.

Dear Sir:

The enclosed clipping is [certain?] Raines has returned to Huntsville where it seems he practically defies the law. The Sheriff of this County goes there today to try to arrest him. The forfeiture proceedings against his bond there are set for tomorrow.

As far as he could do so Raines has bought off his wife for $300 but the prosecution for abduction - the only real matter except divorce - is pending here.

When our Sheriff arrests Raines [illegible] you will be telegraphed to that all proceedings here have been dismissed. Hence I write you at the request of Robert Hayes the father of the girl. He is the prosecutor and he asks me to say to you that he has dismissed nothing and intends to prosecute Raines to the fullest extent and that nobody has tried to dismiss anything for him because that is impossible. He hopes you will have Raines extradited. Raines will ask you to revoke your warrant. Hayes asks you not to do so. I am also authorized by Dist. Atty. Boyd who is at Waynesboro to ask you to give your aid to extradite Raines and not to revoke your warrant.

Yours Respect,
Flourney Rivers

Sheriff's Office
Limestone County, Alabama
E.F. Puryear, Sheriff

Athens, Ala. Sept. 7, 1900

To His Excellency
Joseph F. Johnston
Gov. of Ala.

Dear Sir:
Enclosed please find petition for requisition for one Charles Hester [Hustis?] who is a fugative [sic] from Justice & is now in or near Fayetteville Lincoln Co Tenn.

We who live in this portion of the State which is so near the Tenn. line have to call on the Gov. so often that we are fearful that you may think that we make calls an issue[?] when in fact it is not necessary, but in this case I assure you that the ends of Justice demand that the prayer of the Petition be granted and that the proper papers issue at once before our man leaves for parts unknown.

Hoping that I may receive an early and favorable reply,

I am Respt. &^c
E.F. Puryear

Although it seems unusual to associate passports with travel within what is now the United States, these passports authorized passage through Indian or foreign-held territory east of the Mississippi River during the period 1770 to 1823. The earliest passports were given to persons entering the Indian nations to trade, collect debts, recover stolen horses and slaves, remove the property of white intruders or just to pass through for a multitude of reasons. Sometimes depositions for passports or letters requesting them survived while the passports did not. The sources are cited for the various collections where the passports were located.

This is a comprehensive collection of unique records spanning a time period in the southeast when records are sparse. Originally published in 1982, the many reprints of this book are an indication of its value to researchers.

Confederate Settlements in British Honduras by Donald C. Simmons, Jr. Softback 6 x 9, 176 pp., footnotes, appendix, c2001. $27.50 plus $4 first book .75 each additional from McFarland & Company, Inc., Box 611, Jefferson, NC 28640. NC residents add 6% sales tax.

During and immediately after the Civil War, Confederate sympathizers and former soldiers sought exile in other lands. Evidence suggests that more went to British Honduras (now known as Belize) than any other single site. The majority of these settlers came from Louisiana and the surrounding gulf states.

Simmons looks at the settlements established by former Confederates, what the trip was like, what life was like for the immigrants in the various settlements and the many problems they faced. Many of the immigrants, although not all, eventually returned to their own countries.

Included are lists of arrivals at the hotels and passenger lists from the ships that will help to locate Confederate ancestors. Some provide name, age, sex, profession and country and state of origin.
